GPS Trailmasters

Nuvi Patch Instructions

Certain Garmin GPS models do not properly display the cyan-colored trip log and the purple-colored route line on top of our trail map, instead the line is drawn underneath making it difficult to see. The current list of GPS models that are known to have this issue can be found in pink text on our website Compatibility List. There may be other Nuvi models that we have not verified. This problem has not been identified in any of the non-Nuvi models.

The issue is related to map layering. Therefor the Trail Map layer MUST be combined with the Background Map layer when installed using Garmin BaseCamp/MapInstall.

NOTE: The patch is reversed each time you download and run a new version of the map installer on your computer. The patch program will need to be run after each new version release.
